PROBE OF ALLEGED "FERTILIZER TRUST" ASKED

MORGAN KWANIS IN FAVOR OF PROPOSAL OF FORD FOR LEASE OF MUSCLE SHOALS

Committee Appointed To Telegraph Alabama Delegation Asking Offer's Acceptance

DISTRICT GOVERNOR IS VISITOR TO CLUB

Athens Delegation Also Guests Of Local Organization At Meeting

The Morgan Kiwanis club, without a dissenting voice, went on record last night endorsing Henry Ford in his efforts to take over Muscle Shoals from the government. A committee was appointed by President Calvin to telegraph both Alabama senators and the congressman from this district, asking that they use every possible means to see that the Shoals contract is awarded to Henry Ford.

The committee is composed of T. M. Dix, Clyde Hendrix and Geo. D. Williams.

The feature of the evening was the visit of District Governor Branch of the Kiwanis organization. Mr. Branch has authority over Alabama and Florida and on being introduced by Bob Daniell, made an address filled with information, covering the history of the Kiwanis clubs which was organized only a few years ago and now has a membership of 57,797 in the United States.

Mr. Branch said in part: "You will get out of Kiwanis what you put into it. Receive freely and give freely. Kiwanis is not a dead sea with only an inlet, but has an outlet. It is an organization where there is no room for a grouch. Kiwanis sweeps into a smile from a frown."

He advised the co-operation of all members of the club and to help the president in every way to make this the greatest year since the organization.

Several good lessons were given of kindness. A beautiful peroration at the speaker as a master of word painting, and his address was heard with much pleasure and much profit. Among other things the speaker said the motto "We Build" is for that of the state, the community and the nation, "our family and friends."

"Kiwanis is building a bridge for the other fellow." In discussing the financial condition of the national Kiwanis he stated that it showed no deficit in any department.

The evening was one during which a large part was taken up in the discussion of Ford's proposal to take over the Muscle Shoals project and the sense to a man was that the organization wanted Ford to have Muscle Shoals, regardless of all other propositions.

To Russell Speake the prize for attendance was awarded and to A. M. McConnell, of Athens, the guest prize went. The stunts committee had arranged novel entertainment for the club and visitors which were of an unusually interesting character.

A fine luncheon was served by the ladies of the Episcopal church.

The club was honored last night by a delegation from Athens composed of the following: A. M. McConnell, J. B. Sarver, J. S. McDonald, Bruce Nelson, Ed. Gunn, Mack Kenner, W. T. Sanders, R. L. Hendricks, R. B. Patten and Will Watson, of Memphis, together with others of Albany-Decatur.

It is probable that in a short time Athens will organize a Kiwanis club. Several speakers during the evening indicated that there will be a movement put on foot at once to effect the organization in that city and the Morgan Kiwanis club tendered its good offices looking toward an early organization of a Kiwanis club at that point.

A number of speakers during the evening took occasion to warmly welcome the visitors and urged upon them to come again.

BIRMINGHAM HAS $200,000 BLAZE

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 17.—Fire, starting shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, destroyed a 5-story building occupied by the Oster Furniture company and badly damaged 13 stores in the vicinity of Fourth avenue and Twenty-first street. The ruins were still smoldering at noon.

Firemen battled desperately for hours in a successful effort to prevent the conflagration spreading over a larger area. Total damage is estimated at $200,000. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Ford Offer For Shoals Urged By Albany Chamber

The offer of Henry Ford to take over Muscle Shoals is approved by the Albany Chamber of Commerce and all other offers are opposed, according to the following telegram sent by the Albany Chamber of Commerce to Senators Underwood, Heflin and Norris, to Chairman Kahn and to Representative Almon:

"We strongly urge acceptance of Ford offer for Muscle Shoals. We oppose all other offers now being considered, believing they are actuated by selfish and monopolistic power interests. We recommend that the Government develop property in the interest of all the people in the event the Ford offer is declined.

ALBANY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

PATTERSON IS FOR AWARDED SHOALS TO MANUFACTURER

The following interview of Andrew P. Patterson, president of the Alabama Public Service Commission, was given a Daily reporter today. Mr. Patterson is enthusiastic for the award to be made Henry Ford, and spoke in support of that view as follows:

"As a citizen of Morgan County and the Tennessee Valley I have been tremendously interested in the proposition of Henry Ford for the development of Muscle Shoals and have done everything in my power, personally and officially to influence the government to accept the offer of Mr. Ford. I believe the long and unjustified delay of Secretary Weeks in handling the proposition of Mr. Ford is responsible for much of the confusion and uncertainty that has existed. It is my opinion that the Congress has been ready for months to act favorably upon the Ford proposition had it been favorably recommended by the Secretary of War."

"The long delay has given opportunity for those opposed to the Ford proposition to juggle with proposition and organize a strong lobby for the purpose of defeating the matter. I do not believe any offer made, other than that made by Mr. Ford comprehends the complete development of the Muscle Shoals proposition as desired and required in the interest of the farmers of the south and of the nation. None of the bids submitted other than that of Ford provide for the production of fertilizer materials and this is the one feature that has elicited the active support of the agricultural interests."

"It would be a public calamity for the government to make disposition of the wonderful potential power and property now located at Muscle Shoals, without making provision that its future development and use shall be in the interest of the great agricultural interests of the country. No interest is more worthy and no interest is more urgent need of such benefit than the farmers. I am for the Ford proposition because it comprehends a full and complete development of the entire proposition and the use of such development in the interest of the masses of our people."

PATTERSON HERE

Andrew G. Patterson, president of the Alabama public service commission, is in the city on business, and being interested in the Valley Exposition which opens Saturday, will remain over to spend some time viewing the exposition.

New Film City May Replace Colony Moving Picture Folk In Hollywood

BY MAX KAISE,
(International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Hollywood will yield its place as the "Mecca of the Movies" to Long Island, under plans now being considered by many prominent moving picture interests in this city. Will H. Hays is said to be a leading spirit in the movement. The purchase of several hundred acres of the choicest land in Long Island to be converted into a model township for the staging of movie productions is contemplated. While economy in the making of large film productions was the chief inspiration of the plan, it is learned that a desire to create a model village which will remove some of the odium placed on the movie profession by scandals uncovered by the Arbutnot case and the more recent murder of William Desmond Taylor was a vital factor. Puritanic standards will prevail in the new movie village, according to the plans. "Rough" parties and wild orgies such as are reported to have occurred at Hollywood, will be strictly taboo. One of the first buildings planned is a Community Church, which residents of all religions may attend. Many film corporations have already established studios in Long Island. It is pointed out that "inside" work, such as the staging of society scenes, can be produced more cheaply in the East than in California. Large casts can be assembled at less cost in Long Island. Famous stage stars, appearing in the New York films, will be available for screen work. They will be able to double by appearing before the camera in a Long Island studio early in the day and returning to New York City in time for their evening performance. The famed California sunshine, which has been counted on as an absolute essential in taking movie pictures, is no longer a necessity, it was stated, since the introduction of powerful lights for indoor scenes.

EXPOSITION OPENS SATURDAY AT NOON WITH AUTO DISPLAY IN MALONE BUILDING

Last Minute Preparations Are Being Completed On Friday Afternoon

DOORS WILL OPEN AT NOON ON SATURDAY

Thousands of Visitors Expected From Distance During Ten Days

With last minute preparations being completed, the stage was set today for the opening of the Tennessee Valley Industrial Exposition here at noon Saturday. The exposition will continue through February 28, giving the people of North Alabama, Southern Tennessee and this section generally, as well as hundreds of visitors from a distance, an opportunity to see perhaps the greatest array ever gathered of the industrial resources of the Muscle Shoals district.

As the exposition opens on the upper floors of the Malone building, the fifth annual automobile show of the Malone Coal, Grain and Motor company will throw open its doors on the lower floors of the big structure. The handsomely decorated show rooms were entirely complete today and an attractive exhibition will be made of the three lines of cars handled by the company.

Admission to the automobile show will be entirely free. A small admission charge of only 10 cents will be charged, however, to the exposition to defray the cost of the industrial up-building program undertaken by this section of North Alabama, under the auspices of the Albany chamber of commerce and the Kiwanis club.

Today, like any small army of workers was spread out over all the upper floors of the building, retting the booths and exhibits in readiness. Practically all of the organizations of the Twin Cities will have a part in the organization and the Alabama department of history also will have an interesting and attractive exhibit of historical objects. In connection with their exhibit an unusually interesting feature will be the uniform of the widely beloved Confederate leader, General Joseph Wheeler.

Announcement was made today that Miss Wheeler, daughter of General Wheeler, has loaned the state department a large collection of General Wheeler's personal effects, including the uniforms worn by him during the civil war and the Spanish-American war, and the department promptly forwarded the collection here for exhibition. P. A. Brannon, curator of the department, who will be in charge of the exhibit, arrived here last night.

Farmers of the Valley will have an interesting exhibition of the agricultural resources of this section, while an illuminating display of the mineral resources of the Upper Shoals communities will be shown. The exposition promises to be the greatest ever held in North Alabama and thousands of visitors are expected from all sections of the state and Tennessee, while hotel reservations have been made for visitors from many distant cities. Several people are coming here from Detroit to investigate the possibilities of the Twin Cities as manufacturing sites. As a result of widespread publicity given the exposition, the eyes of the South today were turning toward Albany-Decatur.

WEATHER
For Alabama: Generally fair and warmer tonight and Saturday.

Citizens to Hold Mass Meeting at 7 O'clock Tonight

Citizens of Albany and Decatur will gather in a mass meeting at 7 o'clock tonight to discuss the offer of Henry Ford to take over Muscle Shoals and the recent developments which many fear are jeopardizing the offer of the Detroit manufacturer to take over the project. Both men and women were invited.

The meeting will be held in the Masonic theatre, Manager H. B. Cagle having kindly donated the use of the building together with lights and heat for the occasion.

The call for the meeting was issued by Mayor E. C. Payne, of Albany, and Mayor James A. Nelson, of Decatur.

The meeting here follows closely on the heels of a mass meeting in Huntsville yesterday afternoon, protesting against the acceptance of the offer of the Alabama Power company to take over the Shoals and urging the early acceptance of the offer of Henry Ford.

The following story of the Huntsville meeting is taken from the Huntsville Telegram:

"The sense of the people of Huntsville, as expressed at a mass meeting this afternoon, is that the Alabama Power company should withdraw its offer for the Muscle Shoals and Warrior river power propositions, tender which options it may have secured from the government to Henry Ford and lend its influence to have Congress accept Mr. Ford's offer because it offers greater development of the South and the nation than any proposal that has yet been made."

Called by the Huntsville Senior and Junior chamber of commerce to meet and express their opinions of the tactics of the Alabama Power company, a large number of citizens representing two chambers, the various civic bodies and farm organizations gathered this afternoon and moved the drafting of strong resolutions protesting against the action of the Alabama Power company, and reaffirming the faith of the people in Mr. Ford's plan of development.

On motion, Dr. C. A. Grote, Mayor W. T. Hutchens, Clarence L. Watts and Tracy W. Pratt were named on a committee to draft the resolutions and the committeemen were urged to make them strong.

A motion was also adopted providing for the sending of a delegation of prominent citizens of Madison county to Washington to appear before the senate and house committees in support of the Ford proposal if the presence of such a committee, in the opinion of the Alabama senator and representatives is thought desirable. Col. J. W. Worthington, now in Washington, will also be asked for his opinion on this subject and will be asked to make a date.

Several speakers flayed the Alabama Power company for seeming act of self interest in the apparent effort to thwart Ford and obtain control of the power of the Shoals for itself.

Tracy W. Pratt, of the West Huntsville Cotton mills, acted as chairman of the meeting and in calling the gathering to order he briefly stated the eleventh hour proposition of the Alabama Power company to lease the Muscle Shoals project. He asked the meeting to take some action tending to reflect public opinion of this procedure.

Dr. Carl A. Grote, Clarence Watts, Mayor Hutchens, V. V. Evans and others made brief addresses expressing the opinion that the meeting should reaffirm its support of the people of the Ford project and should condemn the Alabama Power company and demand that its bid be withdrawn.

Secretary P. O. Aiken was instructed to communicate with all commercial and civic bodies in Alabama, the senators and representatives of Alabama and Governor Kilby, informing them of the action of this meeting and asking them to take similar action in expressing their indignation caused by the power company in what was termed its interference with the Ford project.

MERCHANT MARINE PLEA IS MADE BY SENATOR RANDSELL

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, Feb. 17.—Unless the United States has a strong and well balanced merchant marine the American navy will not be as effective as that of Great Britain, despite the 5-5 ratio of the Washington arrangement, Senator Joseph E. Randell, of Louisiana, declared here today in an address before the Cincinnati chamber of commerce.

Randell pointed out that less than one-third of the overseas commerce of the United States is being carried in American ships and declared that it is imperative in the interest of national welfare that at least 50 per cent of the country's imports and exports of every kind, including passengers, be carried in ships owned, operated, financed and insured by Americans.

"American ships are our delivery wagons. They belong to you. You are vitally interested in their success. Their officers and crews are citizens of the United States who pay taxes and perform the same patriotic duties as the citizens of other countries. The ships of the British, our chief maritime rival, pay no taxes to support our schools, our churches, our government," Randell said.

DRYER TOLD OF POSITION OF STATE

Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 17.—Governor Kilby late Thursday afternoon addressed a letter to Judge E. H. Dryer, referee in bankruptcy at Birmingham, that the state stands ready and willing to carry out its proposal for the purchase of the property of the Montevallo Mining company, which filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States court at Birmingham.

Governor Kilby said the state would pay over to the proper person at once any amount called for by the proposal and would carry out every obligation which it agreed to assume by the transfer of the property of the company to the state.

The letter resulted from the dispatch from Birmingham Wednesday afternoon which said Judge Dryer regarded the state's offer as having been withdrawn since it was not renewed following the appointment of David Roberts, Jr., as trustee for the creditors. Governor Kilby told Judge Dryer there has not been any intention on the part of the state to withdraw the offer but there is an intention on the part of the state to complete the transaction when permitted so to do by the bankrupt court.

PLEASE HURRY YOUR COPY

The big trades days to be staged by the merchants of Albany and Decatur Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday has grown into a great big proposition.

"The large number of papers to be distributed by The Daily, the exposition crowds, the co-operation of the merchants and other features have combined to make prospects for the proposition exceedingly bright for a glorious success."

But please hurry your advertising copy. The Daily desires to give the very best service possible to all advertisers, but in order that The Daily can render good service, it is necessary that we get your copy in as early as possible.

Eight Cent Fare Asked In Mobile

Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 17.—The Mobile Light and Railroad company today amended its petition for an eight-cent cash fare on Mobile street cars so as to make the proposed rate effective April 14 instead of April 15. After filing the petition early in the week the company discovered that the contract under which it is now charging seven cents will expire April 13 and it desires to make the proposed rate effective on the expiration of the contract.

The public service commission has set the petition for consideration March 15. It received indirect information today that the city commission of Mobile will be represented at the hearing by Commissioner Harry T. Haftwell.

COMMONS PASSES FREE STATE BILL

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 17.—The Irish free state bill, conferring the power of the Anglo-Irish treaty upon the provisional government at Dublin, was passed by the house of commons this afternoon on second reading. The vote was for the bill 302, against the bill 60.

The passage of the bill was a big victory for Premier Lloyd George. The political foes of the premier had made their supreme fight and on the premier's Irish policy. Austin Chamberlain, government spokesman in commons, had plainly intimated before the vote was taken that if the bill were defeated the Lloyd George cabinet would resign.

ALMON PREDICTS SUCCESS OF FORD IN NEGOTIATIONS FOR BIG PROJECT

Worthington Continues Testimony Before House Military Affairs Committee

SUMS UP WHAT FORD WOULD ACCOMPLISH

Possibilities Are Beyond The Imagination Of Man To Be Developed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A resolution calling for investigation of an alleged fertilizer trust by the senate agriculture committee was introduced in the senate today by Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee.

The resolution also provides for an investigation of charges that the fertilizer interests are maintaining a lobby in Washington against acceptance of Henry Ford's offer to lease Muscle Shoals.

"Powerful fertilizer interests, according to reports, are attempting to defeat Ford's attempt to lease Muscle Shoals. I think the situation is so fraught with danger that the senate should investigate at once the move behind this propaganda. It is also reported commonly that the fertilizer interests are linked together in one powerful campaign to defeat Ford. Such a campaign would be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law."

The resolution empowers the senate agriculture committee to investigate charges that the fertilizer interests are maintaining a lobby in Washington against acceptance of Henry Ford's offer to lease Muscle Shoals.

"It also authorizes the committee to investigate whether there is a fertilizer trust."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Representative Almon, of Alabama, in whose congressional district Muscle Shoals is located, today issued a statement favoring congressional adoption of the development offer of Henry Ford.

"Sentiment in favor of the Ford offer is growing stronger each day. The present status of the matter is very satisfactory. Unless something unforeseen occurs, I feel confident we will succeed in having the Ford offer accepted by congress," said Almon's statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A great waterpower development at Muscle Shoals second only to Niagara Falls, was pictured to the house military affairs committee today by J. W. Worthington, testifying in behalf of Henry Ford's offer to lease the Shoals property from the government.

In the upper Tennessee river there is more than 1,000,000 potential horsepower which Ford will extract from the stream if congress looks with favor on his bid, Worthington declared.

On the Muscle Shoals property alone there is 750,000 horsepower, the witness stated. Replying to interrogations of Representative Quinn, of Mississippi, Worthington told the committee that there is "no place in the United States so economically situated for the manufacture of fertilizers."

Quinn digressed from his inquiry to state the Ford offer gave "more to the government than congress itself gave." He pointed out in support of his statement that action of the house on February 7, 1921, in refusing by a vote of 7 majority to agree to a complete dam Number 2 on the Shoals property. "I sat there with bowed head and

NEW HIGH RECORD FOR LOW PRICES
ON EVE OF DAILY'S 10TH BIRTHDAY.

On the eve of its 10th birthday, The Albany-Decatur Daily joins heartily with the merchants of the Twin Cities in their effort to extend genuine price hospitality to the home folks and visitors, who will flock to the Tennessee Valley Exposition and to the apto show, during the next ten days. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week have been set aside especially as the time when the local merchants will make a special concerted effort to give their customers the benefit of their long business experience in close buying, ability to choose high values, and ability to make selling prices agreeable to all. No business men of the Twin Cities, will treat the visitors other than as guests during their stay, and every effort will be made to set a new high record for low prices in the early days of next week.

For many other considerations, but especially because The Daily for ten long years, has sought earnestly to cooperate with the merchants as one of their city salesmen, does this paper desire the coming week to be fruitful of the highest success. We wish to see the friendly relations that have always existed between the buyers and sellers in this market strengthened and cemented. We firmly believe that every business transaction should enrich both the buyer and the seller. Close observation has convinced us, that little or none of that mean spirit of "trying to get the best end of the bargain" exists either among our merchants or their customers—but on the other hand the spirit of cooperation, fairness, and good fellowship exists. We believe, from conferences with the merchants that they expect to make the present occasion, a large opportunity on their part for showing to all the visitors to the two big shows that they know their business, and are prepared to share generously the fruits of their knowledge with their customers. The general trend toward lower levels in selling prices will be followed to the very limit and where goods have held on the shelves for some time, the merchants promise to go "beyond the limit". From now until the close of the Exposition and the Automobile show—both of which attractions are held in the same block of buildings, the merchants promise to keep prospective buyers carefully informed as to what goods they have for sale, and the lowest possible prices they can take for them. Aside from the display advertisements to appear from time to time, this office obligates itself during the festival days to answer any and all inquiries that visitors or prospective purchasers may desire to make.

LEGAL TERMINOLOGY.

Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court has been urging the legal profession again to simplify its terminology. It is an old theme of his, and in his present position he appreciates all the more the desirability of eliminating the superfluous verbiage that usually clutters up legal documents.

His predecessor, Chief Justice White, had the same attitude, though he seldom said much about it, contenting himself for the most part with exemplifying brevity and terseness in his own practice. After his death he was found to have disposed of all his earthly possessions in about 50 words, as follows:

"This is my last will. I give, bequeath and devise to my wife Leita M. White, in complete and perfect ownership all my rights and property of every kind and nature, whether real, personal or mixed, wherever situated, appointing her executrix of my estate, without bond, and giving her seizin thereof."

This has been praised as a model of accuracy, clarity and brevity. So it is. Yet an editor, accustomed to wielding a blue pencil, is impelled to point out that even the foremost member of the American bench and bar could not entirely forego the technical repetitions of his profession. Why say the same thing three times, in "give, bequeath and devise," and the same thing twice, in "complete and perfect"? And why amplify "all my rights and property" by the ensuing dozen words of needless detail? A newspaper copy reader, instructed to "cut to the bone" this particular bit of copy, would probably make it read:

"This is my last will. I bequeath to my wife, Leita M. White, all my rights and property, appointing her executrix of my estate, without bond, and giving her seizin thereof." And it would probably serve the purpose as well as a thousand words.—Tuscaloosa News.

YOUNG PROMOTER FOLLOWS
EXAMPLE OF PONZI.

Chicago has discovered in Raymond J. Bischoff a youthful financier who might have rivaled Ponzi had he not come to grief. As it is, he makes a fair showing with liabilities of approximately $5,000,000 and "less than $1,000 in cash."

The operations of this latest "wizard" who found it easy to separate other people from their money by promising quick returns at a high rate of interest, are said to have ruined thousands of poor investors whose greed was greater than their judgment. One cannot help feeling sympathy for the victims of "get-rich-quick" schemes, but after all they are the dupes of their own avarice.

Bischoff, who claims to be only 25 years old started his career in 1919 with $10,000. He opened offices to do what he styles a "general financial business, brokerage and oil." According to his story, an acquaintance came to him to borrow $500 to help pay a mortgage. He didn't have the money, but got it by investing $500 belonging to his client. This man told his friends about Bischoff and they in turn told others. It wasn't long wanted to turn small sums into large ones. One of Bischoff's agents charged that he was authorized to offer 100 percent interest.

Like the picturesque Mr. Ponzi now doing light labor in a Massachusetts penitentiary, Bischoff claims that he is innocent, and was ruined by his enemies, but hundreds of his victims, most of them residing in the Chicago stockyards district, would like extremely well to lay their hands on Bischoff, and officials are making a hurried search to locate assets the "wizard" may not have thought it worth while to mention.

Investors in Bischoff's schemes have wanted to kick themselves all the harder when he stated to Judge K. M. Landis that he had had no previous business experience, and all the work he had done was in soliciting members for the Boy Scouts.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

STARTLING DISCLOSURE

As will be recalled when the Alabama Power Company was granted the use of the Muscle Shoals steam plant some time ago the company claimed it desired the power to serve industrial plants in adjoining states which were without power because of the long and continued drought then afflicting the country. The story was plausible and many believed it. But what is the sequel? Let the Sheffield Standard, right on the spot, answer. It says:

"The power company officials asserted that there was pressing need for the government leasing to it the Muscle Shoals steam plant, 'to relieve an acute shortage of power in the Carolinas where the drought had caused water-power plants to shut down, etc.' The power company's experts knew that under no possible condition could the Muscle Shoals plant be put in operation under several weeks. 'As a matter of fact the plant is not in operation now several months after the signing of the contracts, and the Carolinas have had rains, maybe of flood proportions.

"The power company has a lot of explanations to make to square itself in the eyes of the public.

Thus would seem to be confirmed the rumor that the Alabama Power Company had been fighting the Ford proposition under cover, although professing to favor it. It sought a lease of the shoals power, and what for? The company has not made use of that power. Was its purpose to obstruct and delay, as the Standard suggests, action on the Ford offer?

The Standard warns the Alabama Power Company that if it wishes to retain the good will of the people of Alabama it must have a regard for their wishes. "But why the A. P. Co., claiming to an Alabama corporation in spirit as well as in name, should step in now and attempt to prevent the consummation of the Ford contract is more than the average citizen understands. The Power Company is riding to a fall. . . . When the Alabama Power Company becomes a party to the opposition of the Ford offer, then the power company puts itself in opposition to the people of Alabama, whose good will is its greatest asset."

The Alabama Power Company is defying public opinion, relying upon the usual indifference to wrong, quiet submission to exploitation, and evident fear of business men, of antagonizing a powerful, political as well as industrial organization, which controls so many of our commercial bodies and other business organizations throughout Alabama.

The Journal must in this connection congratulate the state press, which with almost one voice declares for Ford as against the fertilizer trust, the power company, and all other agencies fighting Ford.—Montgomery Journal.

One "bloc" breeds another "bloc." There would be no "blocks" at all if there were no attempts to split this country into classes—which is simply another way to sovietize it. It is, however, only when a protesting "bloc" appears on behalf of a portion of the plain people, that there is trouble. Members of the old "blobs" then see the danger of "blobs" in general and of new "blobs" in particular. If they are sincere in their protests they should first abolish the war bloc, the money bloc, the false tariff bloc, the special privilege bloc, the election control bloc, and all the other blocs that have been in existence for so long. The country forms a sufficiently important group by itself, and if the welfare of the country were always in view, all group antagonisms would disappear.—Henry Ford in The Dearborn Independent.

Fighting under cover is one of the very worst forms of warfare. To try and make a false impression as to the real intents and purposes, all the while bending every energy known to attain what is being sought to make believe that one does not wish, is the very unfair way to stage a contest. Out in the open is the way to contest. Secret methods and underhanded designs have no place with those who like fair play.

There has always been blocks of all kinds. Building blocks, street blocks, city blocks, etc., but the latest bloc, and one which has given some gentlemen great concern, is the farmers bloc that has recently staged a play at the capitol at Washington. This bloc was brought into being from actual necessity. The interests of the farmer were not being conserved in a manner as the leaders thought befitting the great industry, hence, the bloc was brought into being, and now seems to be very concrete of character.

Enthusiasm is the dynamic of the soul. It is expressed in various ways. It is the ability to transmit to others the same idea you espouse in such a manner as to cause them to be in inculcated with the same degree of enthusiasm which you possess. An enthusiast can wield great power, and great issues have been changed by the enthusiastic appeal of some one who could cause others to see as he did.

That we reap what we sow, is as true as the Rock of Ages. Effort cannot change it, time does not vary its harvest, neither can it be averted.

It would now seem that the time for debating societies had expired, and that a decision should now be rendered on Muscle Shoals. The judges have heard the speeches and are ready. The judges in this case are the people and they hold the balance of power when it comes to the vote. Mighty powerful.

"The day" no longer means one of carnage—

Health The Secret
Of Attraction

Women of today depend a good deal upon the modern modiste and a knowledge of the cosmetic art to make them attractive. Too often there exists beneath it all a suffering woman whose nervous laugh or forced smile covers a pang of agony caused by some feminine ill. To such a woman Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring health and a happy relief from her suffering, that will make her far more attractive than costly gowns and cosmetics.

For nearly fifty years American women have relied upon this root and herb medicine to relieve their ailments.—Advertisement.

DE LITE TODAY

The appearance of Buck Jones in a new picture is always an interesting event. His pleasing personality, his daring, his unsurpassed horsemanship and the skill with which he frequently disposes of villainous foes by the use of bare fists, alone have made him a general favorite. Since William Fox made him a star. Nearly all his Fox hotoplayers have been "Westerns," secure in the drama of this sort that he has qualifications referred to find most abundant room for display.

Buck's latest picture, "To a Finish," is to be shown at the Delite Theater, Friday. The story is a western of the best sort, and, according to report, has won success wherever presented. The action is said to be rapid from start to finish, with a charming love story woven into the plot.

PRINCESS SATURDAY

"A Virginia Courtship" May McAvoy scores again, this time in "A Virginia Courtship," which comes to the Princess Saturday. It's a corking good story, too, a cleverly idiosyncratic scenario from the well-known play of two decades ago. Miss McAvoy depicts in a most intriguing manner the change brought about in the little girl whose playmate has been a freckle-faced lad younger than herself, when the young man of the house comes home from college. The part of the young man is played by Jason Ferguson, while the rest of the cast includes Richard Tucker, Kathryn Williams, Alec B. Francis and Jay Oliver.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am 18. I am engaged to a young man ten years my senior. He isn't in a position to marry now, but he has asked me to wait a year for him. I told him I would wait. He said I might get a better offer of marriage before he would be able to marry, and that I might accept it. He said he would hate to see me go, but I might do that. Do you think he really loves me? It doesn't seem as if he would say this if he did. But I think he is old enough to know whom he loves, and he says he loves me better than any one else. He doesn't go with any other girls. He is going away soon to work, and I know he will be busy, and he will also be a long way from the postoffice. Do you think it would be proper for me to write him every day? He says he is going to write me every day, but he might not always get the letter mailed. Should I kiss him or not? He says I don't kiss him because I won't kiss him with his friendship back?

WATERS THREATEN GEORGIA SECTION COTTON MARKET IS FAIRLY STEADY

(International News Service)
AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 17—The levee on the Georgia side of the Savannah river today was holding back what otherwise would be a dangerous flood. The water reached a stage of 31.8 feet early today and predictions were made that it would go higher. Large sections of South Carolina are under water and a number of houses are standing in water five or six feet deep. All traffic through regular channels from Augusta to Aiken, S. C., is suspended. The last flood in Augusta was in 1912 when the river reached a stage of 35.1 feet. A stage of 35.4 feet was reached in February last year. It is estimated a flood of at least 50 feet would be necessary to test the strength of the levee.

Colorful Weddings in Saxony.
In Saxony the men wear a special wedding dress that looks like a kimono, well trimmed in front and on the cuffs, a soft collar and bow tie, and on their broad-brimmed hats they have bouquets of living flowers. The brides have long handkerchiefs, and they appear to have borrowed their mother's best tablecloth with which to decorate their waists.

Advice to Girls

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a young girl 17 years old. I have been going with a young man 19 years old for three months. I have begun to love him, but he has been acting rather queerly. When he makes a date, he won't call. When I ask him why he didn't call, he will say he forgot all about it. Will you kindly advise me how I can win his friendship back?

MORMANISM UNDER FIRE IN LONDON

LONDON, Feb. 17—Mormonism is under fire in London and weird tales of conditions in those sections of the United States where the Mormons have settled are edifying the English newspaper readers at their breakfast tables.

Periodically London newspapers pen fire upon the Mormon missionaries in England, and for a few weeks the present Winter campaign is in full blast, and the newspapers making the story have made fun of all Mormons in England, making serious charges. "While Slave Secrets of the Mormon Invasion" and other alluring headlines catch the newspaper reader's attention, but of chief interest for Americans in London are the weird stories of Utah. Writers of the most exciting movie scenarios have been outdone by the writers on London newspapers, who have described night raids by Mormons on western ranches and fights between Mormons, who were carrying off the women folk of ranchers, and mounted cowboys.

Salt Lake City is described as a den of iniquity, entirely in the clutches of the Mormons, and there have even been descriptions of prefections taken by the Mormons to prevent the escape of women from Salt Lake.

Though taunted on all sides by most sensational statements, the heads of the Mormon church in London have been unwavering and have confined their replies to the simple statement that polygamy is no longer practiced by these of the Mormon faith.

Bankhead Will Ask Re-Election

Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 17—W. B. Bankhead, congressman of the tenth Alabama district, notified the secretary of state today of his candidacy for re-election in the Democratic primary. Congressman Bankhead named himself as the person to "handle" all campaign funds. J. M. Miller, of Gadsden, one of the five candidates for congressman of the seventh district, as successor of L. B. Rainey, who will retire after this term, qualified under the corrupt practice act by naming himself as the person to receive and expend his campaign funds. Other candidates who filed their statements with the secretary of state in compliance with the corrupt practice act follow: J. M. Pelham, Sr., "hatom," senator nineteenth district; Judge Ben D. Turner, re-election as judge of first circuit; Calvin Poole, solicitor of second district.

Does Sciatica Make You a Cripple?

Does Sciatica make you a cripple, unable to get out of bed? Or is your case a mild one that merely makes moving around a misery and pain a constant companion? In either event you are unable to work or think, and you are making a miserable life for you, for that is the law of life. Sciatica is a form of neuritis or neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. It may be present without the liver or kidneys being inactive. In the latter case it differs from rheumatism which is always accompanied by coarseness and kidney trouble. Sciatica is caused by pressure on the health of the sciatic nerve and this pressure causes an inflammation and swelling of the sheath, which compresses the nerve and causes the constant pain which is the characteristic of this disease. For three years I have been relieving sciatic sufferers here in the Twin Cities.

Most of last year's wheat is low in grade or heavily and musty. Choice, prime, Dainty quality wheat is scarce and costs a big premium. But we will use no other—we will not lower the quality of Dainty.

It's easier to bake well with Dainty Flour

EVEN a first attempt at baking is more than apt to turn out well if you use Valier's Dainty Flour. Dainty is milled from nothing but the creamy white centers of choice, prime, soft winter wheat. Its high quality never varies. So what if Dainty does cost a few cents more than ordinary flour milled from ordinary wheat—it is absolutely dependable. And it costs much less than it did last year.

Everybody attending the Exposition is urged to patronize this booth as the Society is a little behind, and collections are hard to make. The space and supplies have been donated and the booth equipped free of charge and it is hoped a nice sum will be realized.

DINNER FOR GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Muller entertained at a dinner Sunday at noon for Mr. and Mrs. Frudenburg, of Mayo, Cal., who were the guests of relatives here last week. A five course dinner was served by the hostess, her guests being, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pappenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Frudenburg, Miss Marguerite Pappenburg, Mr. Herman Scholtz, of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Muller.

THURSDAY CLUB.

A delightful meeting of the Thursday club was held with Mrs. Milton Lipscomb as hostess yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sarah Jeffries.

Mrs. Rufus Pearson, Mrs. W. T. Watson and Mrs. John W. Jones were substitutions for absent club members. Mrs. Jones made high score among the visitors and was presented a bottle of powder. Mrs. Hamill received the club prize. Afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Jeffries.

FRIDAY NIGHT CLUB.

The members of the Friday night club enjoyed a delightful meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Rankin with Mrs. John Garrison as hostess. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kennedy were visitors and Mr. Kennedy won the guest prize. Mrs. Marvin Rankin made high score among the members of the club and was presented the club prize.

Mrs. John W. Knight will be hostess next week.

Miss Sallie B. Malone and Miss Lucille Crutcher, of Athens, will be the week-end guests of Mrs. J. P. Melvin on Cain street.

Mrs. L. F. Goodwin is visiting relatives in Birmingham.

Variation in Icebergs.

Icebergs in the Arctic regions are neither so large nor so numerous as those seen in the Antarctic seas, but they are usually loftier and more beautiful, with spires and domes.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

This must be read as a doubtful day, according to the conflicting figures found in the planetary charts. The position of Jupiter, the financial planet, under adverse aspect with Luna, indicates—so say the stellar seers—that it would be unwise to put money to any use, arduous use, either in investment or speculation. Business affairs may cause some distress and anxiety, and generally the mind may be anxious and perturbed. Neptune, the planet of subtlety and unrest, is a dominant force under whose sway but little may be expected in the successful development of plans.

Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of an anxious and troubled year. They should not subject their money to risk either in investment, speculation or in new ventures. A child born on this day, although having peculiar cleverness and abilities, may not be financially successful, owing to possi-

PERSONALS

Little Carl Friend was badly but not seriously burned Wednesday morning while playing around a grate fire in the home. He is reported resting well at the home of his parents on Line and Church streets.

Charlie Lamon is in Montgomery on business.

J. C. Jones is recovering from an attack of influenza.

R. D. Nelson is sick with influenza.

L. E. Huie is in Washington and will visit other eastern cities before returning home. Mr. Huie was an applicant for the postoffice at Albany and his nomination was sent to the senate for confirmation some time ago.

A. O. Keenan, who has been absent from the city for the past three weeks occasioned by the serious illness and death of his father, J. A. Keenan, at Tusculum, returned to the city yesterday.

Little Louis Bailey, who has been ill at his home on 5th Ave. West, is reported slightly improved.

F. J. Cox and family will move to their home in Fairview at an early date.

J. E. Peck, of Birmingham, is here for a few days.

W. E. Baldwin, merchant of Flint and for 12 years postmaster of that place, is in the city today on business.

Best Cough Mixture Is Home Made

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

Acts With Speed—Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Cesses

When you can make, in two minutes, a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often overnight causes stubborn coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Hawkins and snuffing and also soreness of the mucus membrane go and you will feel fine in almost no time.

Just get one ounce of Parment (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for catarrh and acute nasal colds.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF MOULTON AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, Feb. 16.—(Special.)—The teachers and pupils of the Lawrence County High School and of the Moulton public school gave a Valentine party in the high school building Monday night. The occasion was a happy one for each of the young folk and all of the young-old folk who attended. A neat sum was realized for each of the two schools by the sale of candy, sandwiches and other eatables. The Lawrence county board of revenue met in regular session Monday at Moulton and notwithstanding the inclement weather a number of citizens were present with various petitions and requests especially on roads supplying the board with enough business to fill the day and requiring a meeting on Tuesday. All members were present.

Directors and Committees of the Lawrence County Farm Bureau held meetings in Moulton Saturday and in Courtland Monday; a very definite program is being worked out by the Bureau and John F. Yarborough, county agent, expresses himself as well pleased with the outlook for some work really beneficial to the farmers of the county.

Mrs. C. C. Prince moved last week into her newly completed house; the handsome building stands on the lot where her home was burned several months ago, since which time she has had rooms with G. S. Windham and family.

Mrs. G. S. Windham has been quite ill for the past ten days but is im-

Seven Stills Are Taken By Raiders

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 16.—Seven stills were destroyed by the activities of state, county and federal officers in Bullock, Cleburne, Houston and Montgomery counties during the last 48 hours.

In Bullock county three stills were taken, 520 gallons of mash poured out; in Cleburne, two stills were destroyed and 500 gallons of mash taken. In Houston, one still was destroyed, six quarts of liquor captured and one person arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition law and having a still in his possession. Montgomery county furnished one still and 500 gallons of mash.

Mrs. Luther Aldridge of Belle Mina is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. I. Byars, a mile west of Moulton. Mrs. Aldridge will spend several weeks in and around Moulton.

E. B. Landers and family have moved near Tusculum; for the past two years Mr. Landers has made his home in Moulton where he and his family have made many friends.

H. E. Carpenter of Decatur was in Moulton Thursday to Monday looking after typewriters that needed repairing.

Nathaniel Almon, member of Madison County High School faculty Gurley, spent the week end with his parents in Moulton.

Fusheel Holdridge, principal of Johnson Chapel School, Morgan County, was with his home people over Saturday and Sunday forenoon.

Grady Reed and family are now occupying the home in west part of town recently vacated by E. B. Landers and family.

Miss Arrie Cowan was called to Decatur early this week account of illness of her sister, Mrs. Ruby Windham.

Willie Simms of Hillsboro, was in Moulton Sunday night to leave Monday noon for his duties as register in several parts of Lawrence County during the week.

Principal Fruit Simms of Tower Creek school spent the week end with his mother in Moulton.

J. F. Yarborough, county agent went to Tusculum Monday on business pertaining to Farm Bureau.

Jack Smith of Mount Hope and Jim Martin of Landersville were business callers in Moulton Monday.

Clyde Horton of Courtland was a visitor in Moulton Sunday afternoon.

O. H. Judy, cashier, Bank of Moulton, went to Decatur Tuesday on business.

INDIGESTION

Busy Public Official Says Thedford's Black-Draught Helps Him Keep Physically Fit.

Clay City, Ky.—"I have been in business here for twenty-one years; am also cottoner, riding the Kentucky hills and hollows in all kinds of weather and under all kinds of conditions," says Mr. Sam T. Carr, of this place. "To be able to do so, I must keep physically fit, and Thedford's Black-Draught is my stand-by."

"These trips used to give me headaches, and that, I found, came from hurried meals or from constipation. I was convinced that Black-Draught was good, so now I use it, and it gives perfect satisfaction. It acts on the liver, relieves indigestion, and certainly is splendid. I am never without it."

When you have a feeling of discomfort after meals, causing a bloating sensation, headache, bad breath, and similar common symptoms, try taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals—a pinch of the dry powder, washed down with a swallow of water. This has been found to assist the stomach and liver to carry on their normal work, and helps prevent, or relieve, constipation.

Your druggist can supply you with this well-known, purely-vegetable liver medicine. Insist upon Thedford's, the original and only genuine Black-

HORRIBLE HEADACHES!

Try a Course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan to Overcome Their Cause

Perhaps you wonder whether a disordered stomach causes them. Maybe you think your eyes are not just right and that they make your head ache, or possibly that a sluggish liver makes your head hurt. But have you ever thought that your frequent headaches may be due to weak, watery blood? This is a very common cause of headache—what the doctors call anemic headache, due to what they term general "blood poverty." Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with your meals for a few weeks to build up your blood and general strength, and your headaches will probably cease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains a readily digestible form of iron that puts more redness into your blood, and, as everybody knows, it is red blood that is the only sure foundation of good health. You cannot be well without it. Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan of your druggist. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

30th Anniversary Sale

Thirty years ago the first Sellers Kitchen Cabinet was built, because even then it was evident that women were burdened by too heavy work in the home.

Sellers like many others believed that mother should have every possible convenience to make her work easy. So this great convenience was designed. And so through these thirty years it has been improved in many ways with that same view in mind.

Today thousands of women have this perfected mechanical servant in their kitchens. Thousands of mothers find the hours spent in the kitchen fewer—happier and less tiring.

For the next two weeks we will hold a special 30th Anniversary Sale of these beautiful Sellers Kitchen Cabinets, in commemoration of the 30th Anniversary. Prices have been reduced. Terms and conditions will be made so easy that any housewife who if today doing her work the old way—wearing herself out—a slave to her duty to the family—can break the shackles and have more time for her own pleasure and well being.

If you are still making hard, tiring work out of your kitchen duties read the terms of this sale below and learn how you can have this modern, labor-saving equipment right away.

JEFFERSON COUNTY CANNOT RECOVER

Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily

Jefferson county cannot get back from the state bond issue any portion of the $600,000 spent on permanent roads prior to the enactment of the old law of 1919 and the state highway commission cannot promise construction work on all of the eight projects of Jefferson county any early date.

This declaration was made by W. Keller, state highway engineer, to C. B. Ball, chairman of the board of revenue of Jefferson county, and Claiborne, county highway engineer, yesterday afternoon. The Jefferson declaration came to Montgomery to urge a return of the $600,000 and to request that Jefferson road projects be given early consideration. Mr. Keller told them that the road law would not permit the return to the counties of any funds expended in the manner as used in constructing the Jefferson county roads. The return of funds to the counties, according to Mr. Keller, must be limited to those counties which advanced money to the state to match the federal appropriation after the state bond issue was held to be invalid. In each instance where funds are to be returned as assurance of the return on the bond issue was ratified was at the time.

In regard to the construction of the road projects in Jefferson county any early date, Engineer Keller declared that the constitutional amendment and road laws require the distribution of the funds among the various counties in an equitable manner and that not less than $250,000 could be used in any county. He also pointed out that the law requires the use of the funds first in connecting county seat with county seat, which would prevent the construction of the Jefferson projects at this time. Mr. Keller expressed the opinion that all the roads in which the board of revenue is interested will be constructed in time but could not give any assurance as to when road work could start.

QUINN ELECTED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 16.—(Special)—I. T. Quinn, state commissioner of conservation, today received notice of his election to membership in the State Foresters' association, an organization composed of the various state officials who have control of the enforcement of the forestry laws. Mr. Quinn succeeds John H. Wallace, Jr., deceased, whom he succeeded as commissioner of conservation.

LARGE SUM RAISED FOR RELIEF WORK

Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 17.—More than $92,000 has been raised in Alabama towards the National Jewish Relief Fund of $14,000,000, according to information from Isidor Veil, state chairman for the appeal. "The response has been most generous and satisfactory," Mr. Veil said, commenting on the result of the campaign. "All people, regardless of creed, have worked together in a beautiful spirit, as they do in all good causes. They have given of themselves freely and charitably for the sake of the thousands of orphans and widows, homeless and distressed. I am deeply grateful, both as a citizen and as state chairman, for the helpful co-operation, as well as the liberal donations of the people. It is very probable that we shall attain our full quota, $100,000, as committees are still at work in several cities."

The following amounts have been reported from state headquarters, representing approximate totals for the various cities to date: Alexander, $1,000; Anniston, $2,000; Bessemer, $1,250; Birmingham, $20,700; Decatur and district, $1,000; Demopolis, $1,000; Dothan, $800; Eufaula, $450; Gadsden, $3,000; Huntsville, $1,550; Mobile, $20,000; Montgomery, $23,000; On-Ton, $1,000; Selma, $10,000; Talladega district, $1,000; Troy, $500; Tuscaloosa, $3,000; Wetumpka, $400; various other communities are sending in amounts of smaller denominations, $671; totaling about $92,000.

A number of communities exceeded their quotas: these were Selma, Tuscaloosa, Anniston, Gadsden, Opelika, Demopolis and Alexander City. Montgomery and Mobile secured substantial amounts and are still at work and receiving funds; Birmingham has reached $20,700 and is expected to close its subscription lists. A view of the adverse economic conditions that prevail everywhere, the total result for the state is considered by the chairman, who feels that Alabama has acquitted itself nobly.

Candidate Files Unusual Petition

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 16.—Hornee C. Alford, of Birmingham, filed an unusual declaration of his candidacy for judgeship number nine of Jefferson county today. He filed a statement of his candidacy for the position "against the present incumbent, Hon. Dan A. Greene, a perpetual office holder."

Other announcements received by the secretary of state follow: H. M. Sanders, Camp Hill, representative of Tallapoosa county; Palmer H. Bell, Birmingham, representative of Jefferson county; Harry K. Martin, Dothan, state senator for the thirty-fifth district.

What Mother Graham Did When She Heard About Katie.

I PET down Katie's pitiful letter of farewell and looked at Lillian blankly. There is no other catastrophe, save tragedy or sickness in one's immediate family to be compared, in a woman's mind, with the sudden elimination from her daily horizon of a faithful maid. And with my mind relieved from the dread of something serious having happened to her, I quaked at the prospect in store for me without her.

"She's gone!" I said at last, with the banal repetition with which one so often meets disaster.

"So it appears," Lillian replied absently, and I saw that her brain was already busy with whatever complications Katie's unceremonious departure might bring to the mysterious problem she was facing.

With a sudden flash of hope I looked at my wrist watch.

"We can get that train if we hurry!" I exclaimed. "Katie, of course, didn't expect that we'd be an early, or she wouldn't have named her train. But we can catch her."

I started for the door, but Lillian's restraining hand was on my arm before I had reached it.

"Sorry, dear girl," she said regretfully. "But I must ask you to let her go and come with me instead to get hold of Dr. Pettit. You do not know, and I cannot now tell you, just what that man in the hospital must be watching until I can get suitable arrangements for his nursing. Katie is worth nothing to me now as far as this work is concerned, for her lips are sealed by that oath she took."

Mother Graham Appears.
"And if you'll stop to think a minute," Lillian went on swiftly, "she will be worth nothing—quite a considerable quantity—to you, until she gets over this brain-storm about Jim. Just imagine what you would be up against with Katie, morbid, weeny and temery, lined up against your mother-in-law's morals. Now, now, child! Sublimate the gift Mrs. Ticer! If you have to pay her double for the heavy work, and you and I will pitch in and do housework for a little while, we'll make everybody hold, including Dicky, and picnic for awhile."

As she talked we had tacitly walked away from Katie's room, Lillian closing the door after us. And when she finished, we were back in the spotless kitchen, which seemed to my disappointed eyes a dreary enough place without the accustomed cheery presence of my mother-in-law.

Tracks Cleared Following Wreck

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 16.—The tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, which were blocked by the wreck of the Buffalo-Washington express on the road, 15 miles from here last night, in which four persons were injured, were cleared by wrecking cranes this morning and traffic, which had been detoured over the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was resumed over the Pennsylvania's own line. The injured were taken to a Washington hospital early today aboard a relief train.

DR. B. F. RILEY, JR., NOW IN FLORENCE

Dr. B. F. Riley, Jr., formerly of Georgia, has located in Florence and has opened offices over the Alabama Trust and Savings bank. He will limit his practice to the diseases of infants and children.

Dr. Riley is a graduate in science of the University of Georgia, in medicine of Johns Hopkins Medical School and Hospital at Baltimore, has practiced medicine in Georgia for 15 years and has recently completed a course of intensive practical study in his specialty at the Harvard University Medical School, Massachusetts General Hospital and Children's hospitals of Boston.

The location of Dr. Riley, and his family in Florence is a distinct acquisition to the professional and social life of the city and they will be warmly welcomed by our people.—Florence Herald.

Pretty Book Ends.

A useful pair of book ends, made of rich colored tapestry and gold braided, has a strap on the outside of one end to hold scissors and a paper cutter. Another book end when closed looks for all the world like a cream-colored flower pot full of gay blooms, and when filled with books is just as pretty. Shows only one side of the ence of my temperamental but faithful little maid.

"I shall enjoy seeing you put Dicky to work in the kitchen," I said slyly, "especially with his mother in the offing."

"It promises to be interesting," she smiled. "No," with decision, as I reached for the coffee percolator, "we haven't time now. We'll have to wait for our coffee until we get back. Do you suppose your mother-in-law will sleep until we return?"

"You little know her," I retorted. "Why she hasn't been here long before this is a mystery to me. She must be unusually tired, for she always comes down to the kitchen at full hour before breakfast, in an apron and a special cup of coffee. Ah, I thought so! I hear her siren."

Mother Graham appeared at the kitchen door, stiff, positively majestic. In a starchy morning gown that rustled at every step.

"Stir Your Stumps."

"What does this mean?" she asked frowningly. "Where's Katie?"

I looked appealingly at Lillian, meaning leaving the explanation to her. And in a few crisp, succinct sentences she explained Katie's absence, adroitly referring to the "government work," which would necessitate our immediate departure for town, thus setting my mother-in-law in such a romantic, enthusiastic flutter that she considered the question of Katie with far less irritation than I had feared.

"Just what you might expect from that ape," she said contemptuously. "After all we've done for her, too. But then there isn't one of 'em that has a bit of gratitude or decency, anyway, so it's no use expecting anything else."

With which unjust but eminently characteristic phrase she banished Katie from her horizon and turned practically to a consideration of what was next to be done.

"You have to go right away, without waiting for breakfast," she addressed Lillian, but I answered:

"Yes, but, mother, there's no need for you to do anything about breakfast. You know neither Dicky nor Elizabeth will be down for a couple of hours, and we'll be back in time for me to get it. Then I'll go for Mrs. Ticer."

"When I need your help or anybody's in getting up a breakfast, Margaret," she said tartly, "I'll let you know about it. Have Mrs. Ticer come over later in the morning. I can't be bothered with her around my feet this morning. And now stir your stumps, both of you, and get out of my road."

A SPECIAL FOOD FOR OLD PEOPLE

A Great Discovery Made At A Well Known Medical College to Ward Off Feebleness in Old Age

There has been a good deal of discussion lately in regard to old people—some at 50 call themselves old and really appear so, while others at 70 years seem active, vigorous and young.

We see it illustrated every day, all around us. It is not years, but loss of vital force, probably caused by malnutrition, that makes a person seem old. Weakened digestion, thin blood and poor circulation soon start vitality on the wane.

Therefore, we feel free to say, every man and woman who feels old, whether they are so in years or not, will be interested to know that for some time the medical profession have been recommending dietetic treatment for such weak, feeble, nervous conditions.

Now nutritional science has come to the rescue, and for the first time since we have conducted a drug store we are able to furnish you a remedy that has been tested and approved by a professor of physiological chemistry at one of America's greatest medical colleges, known as SUSTO Nutritive Tonic Tablets. They have really proven a wonderful discovery to ward off the feeble conditions of old age and keep one active and well. They supply in concentrated form the strength and life-giving elements of yeast, rice, eggs, milk—with beef protein and iron which are lacking in our daily food. They are easily digested and give one a hearty appetite, promote sound sleep, and impart strength and vitality to every organ of the body. We guarantee SUSTO. For sale by S. M.
